YIWPP Coordinator

Closing Date: 26/07/2021
$60,000 - $70,000 per annum

The Role: An exciting, rewarding and challenging opportunity exists for a Coordinator for the Young Indigenous Women's Pathways Project (YIWPP). YIWPP is a personal development, confidence building, community engagement and pathways program for young Indigenous women between the ages of 16 and 25 from around the Kimberley, Pilbara and Goldfields regions. This role is a permanent position and involves leading a team in activity delivery, event production and ongoing participant support across the three sites. This position is based in Broome and some travel is required.

About You: We are seeking a motivated and energetic individual with previous experience in youth engagement, a strong work ethic and project and budget management skills. Resilience, organisational management ability, strong interpersonal skills, ability to establish and maintain new and existing business relationships and capacity to conceptualise and communicate ideas is also ideal.
